Building a healthier and happier community

About Us

The history of our medical centres dates back to the 1980s when Dr Joseph Przybylko started consulting from the local shopping centre, then called Beefacres. Beefacres dates back to the 1950s and originally there was a deli, butcher, fruit and veg, hairdresser, chemist and a doctor. It was the local community centre that serviced the growing population of farmers and migrants. A lot has happened to the Paradise Medical Centre (Formally known as the Windsor Village Medical Centre) since then, but we are still the same team of health care providers servicing our local community of patients at our new state of the art facility.
